

1000 Atlantic Ave., Suite 114
Alameda, CA 94501

New Senior VP, Director of Commercial Sales

Alameda, CA. – January 5, 2009 — Black Diamond Video (www.blackdiamondvideocom), a leading manufacturer of DVI routers and display wall processors, today announced the selection of Christopher Wallace as Senior Vice President and Director of Commercial Sales.

“Chris brings proven sales and marketing expertise to Black Diamond Video,” said Ed Priest, founder and CEO. “His passion for the industry and experience in the Commercial AV and Real Time markets will position us for our next phase of growth. He has an extensive record of boosting sales revenues and creating strategic customer relationships -I am delighted that he has joined our executive team.”

“Black Diamond Video’s video processing hardware is a generation beyond anything in the industry,” Wallace commented. “Their products represent a perfect storm of performance, functionality, and pricing ...I am extremely excited about introducing the new hardware to the marketplace.”

Most recently, from 2000 – 2008, Wallace was Sales Director at RGB Spectrum, a leading manufacturer of video processing solutions. During his tenure, he achieved record breaking sales and built a network of resellers, consultants, and integrators.

About Black Diamond Video

Black Diamond Video is a leading manufacturer of high-resolution digital video processing solutions for mission-critical and commercial applications. Products include single-link and dual-link DVI matrix switches, video wall processors, scalars, signal conditioners, and converters. For more information, please visit www.blackdiamondvideo.com.